Information

- For definitions of de facto partner and land use entitlement see the dictionary in the Duties Act 1997. The definition of de facto relationship can be found in section 4AA of the Family Law Act 1975.
- residential land means:
 - a parcel of land on which there is one single dwelling or one flat, or a parcel of land on which there is a building under construction that, when completed, will constitute one single dwelling or one flat, or
 - a strata lot, if it is lawfully occupied as a separate dwelling, or suitable for lawful occupation as a separate dwelling, or
 - a land use entitlement, if it confers an entitlement to occupy a building, or part of a building, as a separate dwelling, or
 - a parcel of vacant land that is zoned or otherwise designated for use under an environmental planning instrument (within the meaning of the Environmental Planning and Assessment Act 1979) for residential or principally for residential purposes.
 - Land does not cease to be regarded as land on which there is one single dwelling, or one flat, merely because the land is also used or is capable of being used for the purpose of one other residential occupancy, if that residential occupancy is an excluded residential occupancy.

3. excluded residential occupancy means:
- (a) one room, or
 - (b) one suite of rooms (not being a flat) each room of which all occupants of the suite are entitled to occupy, or
 - (c) one flat, or
 - (d) one suite of rooms (not being a flat) each room of which all occupants of the suite are entitled to
 - (e) occupy, and one room, or
 - (f) one flat and one room, or
 - (g) two rooms, each of which is separately occupied.
4. flat means a room or suite of rooms (whether or not forming part of a building or a detached building):
- (a) occupied or used as a separate dwelling, or
 - (b) so constructed, designed or adapted as to be capable of being occupied or used as a separate dwelling, but does not include a single dwelling, a strata lot or a dwelling, or portion of a building, that is occupied under a land use entitlement.
5. single dwelling means a house:
- (a) occupied or used as a separate dwelling, or
 - (b) so constructed, designed or adapted as to be capable of being occupied or used as a separate dwelling, but does not include a strata lot or a property commonly known as a shop and dwelling.
